Create Peace of Mind™

WHAT WE DO

PeaceLove helps create peace of mind.
Through expressive arts programs and storytelling, we empower individuals and communities to share their mental health stories and discover new tools for mental wellness.

HOW WE DO IT

EXPRESSIVE ARTS
We use expressive arts to help people express emotions and find peace of mind.

STORYTELLING
We believe in the power of storytelling to build community and make the world a healthier place.

PARTNERS
Our partners are trailblazers who grow and transform opportunities to support mental health.

Conference
Our annual Peace of Mind Storytellers event inspires conversations of acceptance, understanding, and hope. We bring together leaders and newcomers to share their mental health stories and celebrate the work they are doing to help create peace of mind. We believe in the power of storytelling to build community and mobilize a world to change.

“I didn’t feel like just an audience member, I felt like a part of a movement, an all encompassing experience heart and soul.”

“It was an incredibly motivating and uplifting day to hear how so many people not only overcame obstacles but how they are doing good to better the world.”
Our partners are trailblazers who grow and transform opportunities to support mental health and expressive arts. Here are a few of our featured partnerships:

PeaceLove is proud to partner with Equitas Entertainment to improve the mental health of incarcerated populations. Portions of the proceeds from the film “Imprisoned” will support the training of CREATORS serving incarcerated populations throughout the country.

RADical Hope is making strategic investments to increase PeaceLove’s program reach and to design a rigorous evaluation for mental health program efficacy, with the goal of setting a standard that can be universally applied.

Janssen Johnson & Johnson launched “The Art of Ending Stigma” campaign with PeaceLove as a featured collaborator. Jeff Sparr’s artwork was featured in the campaign logo and other marketing materials.
